

This Preliminary Site Plan shows the tentative or approximate placement of the home, easements, and lot dimensions prior to construction and is subject to change. This plan is neither a survey nor a substitute for a survey. In addition to changes that may occur during the development and construction process, this Preliminary layout is subject to and does not supersede: (i) any rights reserved to the builder under the building agreement; (ii) all other items (including easements or other encumbrances) which may appear in recorded documents or otherwise; and (iii) any encumbrances or other information disclosed in a title insurance commitment.
